YOUTH IGF 2021

Youth Internet Governance Forum (yIGF) is a preparation camp for the youth to participate in APrIGF and to open their door to Internet policy discussion. It serves as an open platform for the youth to express and interchange their ideas and thoughts on issues of Internet governance.

AIM OF YIGF

We aim to raise youth's awareness of Internet governance discourse and to engage youth in policy discussion and the decision-making process.

TARGET PARTICIPANTS

- Undergraduate or Graduate students in tertiary education in the Asia Pacific; or
- Young professionals who are based or come from the Asia Pacific region aged between 18 and 30;
- Internet Governance events' alumni or fellows in the Asia Pacific region.

KEY FEATURES

Roundtable discussion

All youth participants will be given the opportunity to explore hot topics, such as how the ramification of Internet hardware impacts geopolitics and what cryptocurrency is doing to our planet, with industry experts and youth leaders from the Asia Pacific.

Meetup with industry experts & youth leaders

Participants will be given the opportunity to meet with industry experts from different stakeholder groups, and youth leaders of different youth initiatives from the Asia Pacific region. This session aims to help participants to get a better idea of the multi-stakeholder approach in the Internet governance world and strengthen our network in the region.

Youth policy statement & presentation

Participants will form groups to do their group presentations by the end of the virtual camp, in order to bring out their opinions and possible policy suggestions on the theme of "Envisioning a sustainable internet for today and tomorrow". The ideas and opinions suggested by participants will be recorded to establish a Statement, which will be submitted to and published on the official site of the Internet Governance Forum by the United Nations.
